Stories from the Borders is the love child between balancing my bilingual, bicultural identity, and my appreciation for Guillermo Verdecchia's Fronteras Americanas— a play that proposes that a person who does not necessarily fit in one way of living should learn to live in 'the borders:' the middle where their two cultural identities meet, and interact without any intent to overcome the other. Following this philosophy, this website will be a hub of ideas that seek to tell, retell ...

Stories from the Borders – An ode to Verdecchia's ...

Guillermo Verdecchia, a Canadian of Argentinian provenance, only a few after the success of his play Fronteras Americanas/American Borders for the first time tried his hand at short stories which came out under the title Citizen Suárez(1998): the stories are, like his early play, essentially about people lost between countries and languages, in their complex citizenship caught between desire to run away and to belong.
